FRINGE CURTAIN Chainex 07 chainmail

registered design

FOIN[®] COTTE DE MAILLES

This curtain, made up of Chainex 07* chainmail bands, can be used as a door curtain or left freely in space, to form a divider through which it is easy to go. It filters out views and makes a play on light, especially when made up of different thicknesses.

With average-sized bands and rings, this curtain offers a true “cross-through partition”. It is suitable for an architectural scale while offering a playful touch.

Made entirely of stainless steel, it offers excellent properties of resistance, particularly against fire and corrosion. The modules are made solely in a standard width of 56 cm. They slide, side by side, on a single bar. By overlapping them and gathering them slightly, when needed, the desired width can be attained, without the joins being visible. A module can also be used as a décor, as needed.
